"That's just exactly it. We are agreed in the House and the Senate should have long ago been ready. It ought now to be prepared to vote; but it is evident that everybody in the Senate is anxious to get into the Record with a set speech and participation. to get into the Record with a set speech and participation in debates on all kinds of abstract questions. They are pretty shrewd over there when it comes to juggling with the 'shining hour,' so as to make it appear, that they have discovered interto unexplored and grave defects of legislation originating in the House, there is no telling what they mean to so this session. We shall see what weight the united pressure of House representatives will have with the Senate when they begin to bear down for the Senate to leave off talking and go to work. When the country at large comes to see the meaning of the delay and begins to fasten the blame where it belongs, perhaps the Senate will give attention and do their part of congressional business."

Representative Maynard has depided positively that he will not be a candidate for re-election to the place of meriper of the Congressional Campaign Committee from Virginia and Mr. Flood will be chosen in a short time. It was intended that the meeting should be held prior to the retirement of Representative Swanson, but it was stated to-day that as there will be no opposition to the election of Mr. Flood the meeting will not be held for sometime.

tion of Mr. Flood the meeting will not be held for sometime.

Representative Swanson spent a great portion of an unimportant day in the House to-day, getting his books and papers together and cleaning out his desk generally, in order to have everything in readiness when he leaves the House on Tuesday to go to Richmond to be inaugurated Governor of the Commonwealth on Thursday. He may cone back some day. He would not be the first man who served in the gubernatorial office and then came to Washington as a representative in Congress, though it is not recalled that any man has left Congress to become Governor and then returned after serving a term as chief executive. Possibly, in the mutations of time and politics, Mr. Swanson may return to take a seat in the other chamber of the national Legislature.

He is a young man. He is ambitious above most men. It would be a daring man who would say without reservation that the political career of Governor Swanson had ended when his successor in the gubernatorial office is sworn in.

Representative Hay was called to his home in Madison county to-day by a telegram announcing that his little daughter had an attack of appendicitis. The seriousness of the attack was not indicated in the dispatch.

Representative Lamb said to-day he did not know whether he would be able to attend the inauguration of Mr. Swanson on Thursday, but that he hoped to do so, and would probably be able to get away. Captain Lamb is kept very husy in attendance on the hearing which the Committee on Aspriculture is now giving representatives of the Department of Agriculture for the purpose of obtaining information on which to base the agricultural appropriation bill to be introduced soon.

Disease.

During conclave week in San Francisco, Sir. Knight Wm. H. Maneeley, of 1904 N. Seventeenth Street, Philadelphia, of Mary Commandery, called at the office of the Jone, J. Fulton Co. to report his recovery. He stated that he had both Bright's Disease and Diabetes for nine years, and had gotten so low he could not speak for a haif hour at a time, and had to be put in ice packs. A leading physician sent him word that he had had several cases recover under a preparation made in California called Fulton's Compound. Maneeley sent for it. The third night he got the first natural sleep in months, and improvement was then gradual but continuous, until he is now the pleture of health.

Among other well-known Philadelphians who had recovered he mentioned Richard Filbert, Mrs. E. T. Snow, of 1815 Columbia Avenue; also, two residents of Kensington, whom he told of it; also the wife of a physician and several others, Masons will know how to approach Mr. Maneeley to get the eternal truth as to the genulneness of this protound discovery.

Opposes Tariff Bill.

Opposes Tariff Bill.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—A. Bijur, president of the American Leaf Tobacco Producers' Association, made an argument to-day before the senate committee on the Philippenes, in opposition to the Philippine tariff bill. He said that seven and a half billion cigars are now made annually in the United States, and that every cigar brought into the country means the displacement of a cigar made by American labor.

Under present conditions he said that no Philippine tobacco comes into the United States because the tariff keeps the price beyond that which consumers will pay. Now it is unprofitable to sell Philippine cigars for less than 10 cents. That price forces competition with Havana cigars, but with the duty of the price could be reduced to 5 cents. This reduction would bring them into competition with domestic cigars and make a market for them with domestic cigars and make a market
